IN BRIEF.

Gold leaf sheep dip at Joseph H. Brown's.

See advertisement of Silver Leaf Baking Powder.

It was said last night the best blacks had "gone broke" on little Bob.

J. H. Brown has just received a lot of Pyle's Pearline for the trade.

Quaker celebrated home-made candy at Wm. M. McVeigh, No. 22 Main street.

Joseph H. Brown offers to trade this morning the celebrated gold leaf sheep dip.

Fresh imported cigars are offered low to the trade this morning by Joseph H. Brown.

Joseph H. Brown is just in receipt of a large lot of fresh imported cigars which he offers low to the trade.

GREEN FROST: It's a popular fact that Louis A. Trapp, No. 22 Houston street, has the best nicker cigar in the city.

Genuine pure strained honey at Spencer & Taylor's by the pound, jar or gallon. It's fine and don't you forget it.

Grand tournament at the Rink Thursday night. The winner will crown his Queen, and the two next best the first and second maids of honor.

Persons wanting sweet potatoes for seed will find the best varieties at Turner & McCreary's grocery store opposite the post-office.

H. W. Massey Esq., at one time a citizen of Fort Worth but now in the jewelry business at McGregor, says the little city is on a big boom and will be a good city.

Two bed-steads, two mattresses, two pillows, one comforter, one cookstove and fixtures complete for sale at Spencer & Taylor's cheap.

The Building and Loan Association which has been in operation here for many months, has built over 20 elegant houses, loaned about $40,000, and is now in splendid working order.

In a few days S. M. Fry Esq. will move into his cozy new house on East Belknap street where he intends to make additions to the house, which will make it one of the neatest residences in the city.

The GAZETTE is authorized to state that Dr. W. A. Adams of the firm of Beal & Adams is not a candidate for alderman in the second ward, his time being fully occupied by his extensive practice.

The thanks of the GAZETTE are due those sterling gentlemen and wide-awake grocers, Messrs. Turner & McCreary, for a box of fine cigars. These gentlemen deserve the success they are winning, and the GAZETTE is pleased to smoke to their merit and prosperity.

PERSONAL.

George W. Wilson of St. Louis is at the El Paso.

Wm. Mische of New Orleans is at the El Paso.

J. A. Slaughter of Galveston was in the city last night.

M. J. Ware, a prominent citizen of St. Louis, is in the city.

The Texas & Pacific was thirty minutes late last night, other trains were on time.

T. S. Pandey of Cincinnati, a brother of Frank and Dr. W. C. Pandey is in the city for a two weeks visit.

Terry's Garden is now the property of George Gause, who will soon have bushels of strawberries.

Mrs. G. W. Alexander and Miss Katie Smith left for Deason last night to spend part of the summer.

Ben Lockett left last night for Jefferson City, having received a telegram that his wife was very sick.

Garland Smith and Willie Mayfield had a warm discussion at the race track yesterday about a borrowed horse.

Joe Morris, Mr. McCarty's trotter, will be taken to Gainesville in a few days, where he will trot in several of the races.

The flouring mill now being built near the iron foundry by M. P. Bewley Esq., is to cost $15,000 and will be first-class in every respect. Mr. Bewley is a competent business man and will certainly be successful in his venture.

Stephen Wickham Esq., of Okego, New York, is looked for to-day to take the remains of his brother Shepherd.

AN INFERNAL MACHINE.

An Irish Chemist's Device For Making War on England.

New York, March 17.—John B. King, the Irish chemist of Brooklyn who devotes much of his time to devising methods for destroying English property, thinks that he has invented the right thing at last. It is a thin globe made of water-proof cement. It is fire-proof and a non-conductor of heat. Through the axis of this globe is run a steel wire and on that is strung a glass tube. This tube is filled with acid and hermetically sealed to the wire. The globe around the tube is filled with a compound well known to chemists, which, King says, will explode with a greater force than dynamite whenever the acid in the tube comes in contact with it. Over all is a thin iron shell. From a small receptacle for fulminate in the surface of the iron shell an iron fork runs down to the glass tube. The explosion of the fulminate will drive the fork through the tube. To drop the bomb on what are considered inaccessible buildings, Mr. King proposes to send it up at night, attached to a balloon by means of a fuse. Light platinum wires serve at once as guys to direct the balloon to the right place and as conductors to carry a current of electricity, which by firing the fuse, lets the bomb drop. At night, he says, detection will be impossible and there will be little loss of life.

Enemies of the People.

The Fort Worth GAZETTE—always on the right side—is making a manly fight on the railroad destroyers, who would also be the destroyers of the prosperity of the state. It is cheap patriotism indeed that would barriade Texas against the only motor of progress that it might become popular with those who, in their own interests are opposed to further settlement and development of the West. The legislator who supports any such measure should be marked by the press and people, and remembered in days to come. As for us, we shall ever regard the enemies of railroads as public enemies, and shape our course accordingly.

An Unknown Speaker.

Washington Sunday Herald.

In the house lobby, back of the speaker's desk, is an incomplete collection of portraits of speakers of the past. All are labeled with the correct names except one. This is the second picture on the right hand side of the lobby, as you go in from the west. No one apparently knows whom this represents beyond the fact that he was once a speaker. The oldest citizen has vainly struggled to identify him. Unknown, the face of the man who once held the third office in the United States gazes calmly down upon the procession passing him in a maddening rush for political fame.

Special Notice.

All members of Hope Lodge, No. 28 A. O. U. W., are hereby notified to attend the next regular meeting of their lodge, on Thursday March 22 at 7:30 p. m., at their hall corner of Houston and Second streets, as business of great importance is to be transacted.

W. H. ALBRIGHT,
Master Workman.

REMOVED.

The St. Louis store has removed to No. 21 Houston Street, where they will continue to sell their stock of Dry Goods, Clothing, Boots, Shoes, Furnishing Goods, etc., at the same great reduction in prices as heretofore.

New goods are also being added to keep the stock complete, and will be sold at correspondingly low prices.

SAYS I TO MYSELF, SAYS I.

Soliloquy of One of Fort Worth's Citizens.

When warm weather sets in a vacation I'll take,
Says I to myself, says I.
And return when I know my health's not at stake,
Says I to myself, says I.
Since our streets are not paved and no sewers are laid,
Hotels are so bad, I know if I stayed
Each thought of my mind would with death be arrayed,
Says I to myself, says I.

Rain makes of each street whenever it appears,
Says I to myself, says I.
A river of mud right up to your ears,
Says I to myself, says I.

Now this may be nice, but I fall to "catch on;"
Day and night I despair till the mud is all gone,
And leave here I will if my clothes I must pawn,
Says I to myself, says I.

Unpack and remain, the contract is let,
Says I to myself, says I.
Good sewers and streets our town will now get,
Says I to myself, says I.

Unless something happens, unexpected as now,
Some act of our Maker, to which we must bow,
To compare us to Dallas will be shameful, I vow,
Says I to myself, says I.

RESOLVING THEREFORE TO REMAIN A DENIZEN OF FORT WORTH, HE (SENSIBLE MAN) BETHOUGHT HIMSELF OF AN IMPROVED DUTY, AND HASTILY WENDED HIS WAY TO 58 HOUSTON STREET, WHERE HE "DROPPED HIS BUNDLE" IN EXCHANGE FOR A COMFORTABLE OUTFIT. A FAIR EXCHANGE, INDEED. CLOTHING, FURNISHING GOODS, HATS, ETC., ETC.
